

Rega RP-10*$5495 ($6695 with Apheta 2 cartridge)

Rega has been on some roll the past few years, significantly upgrading its line and taking its low-mass/high-rigidity philosophy to impressive new heights. And its new top model, the RP-10, outfitted with a “skeletal” plinth, new motor, ceramic platter, Rega’s best arm yet, and a new power supply, is quite the statement from this venerable British firm. The sound has a great sense of detail and dynamics and the usual audiophile checklist. But most importantly, it’s fluid, articulate, cohesive, and exceptionally immediate and communicative with its musical delivery. WG, 249

